LunaJets Strengthens its Presence in France.

New office in Paris

Exponential growth in the French market has meant that LunaJets has moved to a new office space at 9 Faubourg St Honoré at the center of 8th district of Paris in the 'Triangle d'Or' area. The private jet division will be led by Augustin Annecca with Pierre Guillet in charge of development. "Paris, is at the center of our regional office strategy, with London, Dubai and Madrid" noted Alain Leboursier, Group Managing Director "as France and particularly Le Bourget airport account for the biggest portion of traffic in Europe after London, we are delighted with the results we already are seeing particularly, the amount of new clients both private and corporate, interested in our simple and flexible offer, with no long term commitment, hidden cost or fleet limitation which, seem to fit the French market perfectly " Alain concludes.

Luna Group Charter, our division dedicated to larger aircraft bookings (over 19 passengers) serving needs such as for example sport organisations, fan travel, weddings or corporate events will be located in the same office and run by industry veteran Rémi Aubin.

International Paris Air Show (June 19th to June 25th)

June 2023

One of the standout attractions at the International Paris Air Show was the magnificent Falcon 10X full-scale cabin mock-up by Dassault. This ultra-long-range twinjet combines sheer size, ultimate privacy, and collaborative workspace. The Falcon 10X epitomises the pinnacle of private aviation, offering discerning travellers an unmatched flying experience. "The Falcon 10X is not just another intercontinental contender, it's in a league of its own and has to be experienced first-hand to be fully appreciated," said Dassault Aviation Chairman and CEO Eric Trappier.

"During the International Paris Air Show, LunaJets representatives were readily available to connect with industry professionals, partners, and clients, ensuring uninterrupted support and personalised assistance" says Guillaume Launay, the Group Head of Sales.
